A WALKING GUIDE

Whether you're visiting the Quarter for the first time or walk its streets every day, there are plenty of things to see, do and discover. Here are two suggested walking routes to keep you entertained.

1. A DAY OF DINING FROM DAWN UNTIL DUSK

BREAKFAST
Get the best possible start to the day and a cheery welcome too from 106 Café, the modern European café on Baker Street. You'll be hard pressed to choose from its array of freshly baked pastries and cakes but we say go wild-card and order the rosemary focaccia sandwich with Italian meats and cheese. Wash it down with a freshly prepared juice, apple, carrot and ginger is our favourite.

COFFEE BREAK
If you're craving a mid-morning sweet treat, head over to Arro Coffee for one of their divine best-selling pistachio croissants. Pair it with a special 'blend of the day' coffee to keep you fired up until lunchtime.

LUNCH
Inspired by the street hawkers, roadside cafes and railway stations across India, Roti Chai's Street Kitchen is the perfect daytime hangout. Grab your mates and fill your boots with a wide selection of small tapas-style plates to share. With Bombay Bhel Puri, finger licking Agni 'Fire' Wings and divine Chicken Samosa Chaat on the menu you may need to order the lot!

AFTERNOON BOOST
When it's time for not only an energy boost but an injection of health and vitality, in liquid form. Joe & The Juice is the perfect tonic to provide some wellness in a glass. Opt for the Energiser juice and we're sure you'll be ready to power through until bedtime!

COCKTAILS
Be prepared to be transported to another time and place at Purl, the delightful multi-sensory underground cocktail bar on Blandford Street. Its extensive menu of carefully curated cocktails are crafted using aroma, fogs, airs, foams, food and liquid nitrogen. The theatre of the mixologist should not be missed and we wholeheartedly recommend propping up the bar with a Mr Hyde.

DINNER
Indulge in the exotic and tantalising flavours of South India at culinary extravaganza - Ooty. The menu features delicacies from all corners of South India that have been carefully crafted to retain their authenticity. A creative selection of dishes and sensational aromas and flavours promise to give you an experience of South Indian cuisine in a way London has never seen before.

2. THE QUARTER'S TOP PHOTO SPOTS

Snap away and share your selfies with us @BakerStreetQ

1. Who can resist the charm of London Underground's very first tube station? Baker Street Station has character at every turn including a massive nod to the area's most famous character! Head to the Bakerloo platform and take a seat on the bench for your first insta-worthy photo - a backdrop of Sherlock Homes wall tiles and the station roundel.

2. Outside Baker Street Station you can't miss the tall bronze statue of Sherlock Holmes towering over the hustle and bustle. Stand back and snap away.

3. From the station take the Wonderpass, the experiential underground crossing where you can discover the story of Marylebone while you walk and peep into port-holes containing works of art. The red and white Victorian-circus themed design is a perfect scene for some creative camera shots and be sure to pass by the dome mirrors on either end for a cheeky shot.

4. Head down Chiltern Street, voted London's coolest street by Condé Nast Traveller, for some seriously stylish snaps. The uniformed retail storefronts are perfect street-scene material. Don't miss the beautiful Grade II listed firehouse building, now home to the world famous Chiltern Firehouse.

5. For the ultimate in gothic architecture walk down George Street until you reach the wonderful St James's Church. The entrance design is 13th century gothic to a tee and modelled on Salisbury Cathedral and Westminster Abbey. Let the doorway arch be a dramatic frame for your selfies.

6. Head to Manchester Square, one of London's best preserved Georgian Squares, where you'll discover plenty of insta opps. Highlights include, The Wallace Collection, one of the best collections of fine art in the country (and free to enter!). The Square was also formerly the site of EMI's headquarters where at number 20, the cover image of The Beatles first LP was shot in 1963.

7. Call in for a cocktail at The Churchill Bar and Terrace inside the Hyatt Regency London - The Churchill, on Portman Square, and take a snap seated next to Mr Churchill himself. You'll find a bronze statue of the iconic leader in the bar's terrace which is always re-styled for every season. One to amuse your followers.

8. Selfridges, London's best-loved department store is always worthy subject matter, whether it's the legendary window displays or the famous Selfridges & Co. plaque that you'll find on the building's facade.
